An oasis made up of palm trees and swimming pools set in the stark desert of the Coachella Valley. Here an hour away from the bright lights of Hollywood, this city's hot climate is like a warm welcome for guaranteeing luxurious relaxation that includes rounds of golf and cocktail parties. The schedule of glamorous events requires a certain way of dressing, and prints with small and large flowers are used on just about everything. This helps break up the placid monotony of the desert surrounding Palm Springs. Touches of coral, turquoise, emerald and amethyst make for a refreshing afternoon spent poolside wearing oversized sunglasses fit for a diva and evenings spent on Spanish-style patios with "bouquet" clutches and flowery jewels.
